TEAM-BUILDING GAMES FOR FUN

A Worksite Special Event

If you're looking to add excitement, teamwork and creative fun to your next company or school event...consider a Battle Blast™!

The Battle Blast™ is an onsite program designed as an excellent vehicle to promote team-building and worksite wellness for your company, school or organization. This event provides inter-departmental socialization, allowing employees from different departments, buildings or groups to participate in a fun day of activities and includes a team building presentation delivered by professional educators. Working together as a team, participants challenge other employees in unique activities including athletic events, mind teasers, creative building tasks and more. This event creates a spirit of camaraderie and ensures fitness and fun for each participant. Each Battle Blast™ is personally designed to meet your company's individual needs, ranging from 2-6 hours in length and can be combined with company picnics, staff development days or team-building workshops (on-site or at a location of your choice).
